About Exposanità

Exposanità is Italy's unique exhibition and Europe's second largest event dedicated to health care and assistance.

Established 30 years ago, it is viewed as a must-attend appointment and provides a platform for manufacturers, wholesalers and distributors to meet the medical community of the Mediterranean area.

During the 2010 edition over 900 exhibitors coming from 23 different countries showcased their products and services to 30.676 professional visitors in 9 areas dedicated to hospital products and technologies, handicap and rehabilitation devices, orthopedics, medical innovation, ICT, diagnostics and the main themes related to health care and assistance.

With a growth in health expenditures of 28% in the last 7 years, Italy represents one of the most appealing markets for those operating in this sector, while its geographic position provides a handy gateway for Italian but also Mediterranean and eastern European visitors.

Exposanità 2012: the best way to target the Italian market and to network with professional operators from the Mediterranean area.

ANNI D'ARGENTO

Solutions, products, and services for the third age

Getting old is a goal and a challenge for XXI century society. Improved conditions of life imply a new management of the social and sanitary system of our country.

The average age for men is 77 years, while women reach up to 83.

One Italian out of four is over 65 and one out of 20 is over 80.

The need of a deeper attention for the elderly corresponds to the awareness that technologies and products that are specific for that age do not exist. Therefore, there will be no specific area dedicated to this theme, but a show throughout the exhibition made up by products and services that contribute to assist the elderly.
